Headline:
Early fog clearing, then sunny and dry on Tuesday.

Today:
A generally dry and sunny morning, with fog patches soon clearing from Lincolnshire. Long periods of sunshine into the afternoon, but with some fog patches still affecting the coast. Warm, but cooler toward the coast in a light breeze. Maximum temperature 25 deg C (77 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry into the evening with clear skies across much the region. Staying clear for most into the early hours, but with isolated fog patches possible in rural areas. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Wednesday:
A fine and dry day with long periods of sunshine, hazy at times. Feeling warm, but a little cooler in the east with an easterly breeze. Maximum temperature 26 deg C (79 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A weakening band of showers pushing northeastwards through Thursday. Mainly dry and sunny Friday, with a risk of isolated showers. Patchy rain and cloud spreading east through Saturday.
